

END OF A LONG AND USEFUL LIFE

Mrs. Phoebe Wolstenholme Passes
Away at Her Salt Lake Home,
Aged 83.

BY THE death of Mrs. Phoebe Wolstenholme, at the age of 83, Salt Lake City has lost one of her oldest and best-known citizens. Mrs. Wolstenholme died at the family residence, 224 North Sixth West, at 10:30 on Tuesday night of old age. She was a widow of the late William Wolstenholme of Salt Lake City.

Mrs. Wolstenholme was born in London, England, in 1821. In 1854 she came to Utah to join her husband who had preceded her out here a few years after they were married. She then became a member of the Mormon church. She lived at the residence, 224 North Sixth West, all the time she was here. She was well known and highly respected by all her neighbors, and by all those who knew her and appreciated her sterling qualities. Her strength of character, as well as her uniform kindness of heart, endeared her not only to her own family, but to all those with whom she came in contact. For many years she kept open house at her home, until the advance of old age prevented her exercising the hospitality for which she was famous.

Mrs. Wolstenholme leaves three sons, one daughter, seventeen grandchildren and twelve great-grandchildren. Of the children William J. Wolstenholme, of the Citizens' Coal company, the eldest son, is the best known. Levi, another son, moved some time ago to Pleasant Green, where he owns a farm. The other son, Daniel, and the only daughter, Lavina, are unmarried. The funeral will take place at 2 p. m. on Friday and the services will be held at the Sixteenth ward meeting-house.

CROP CONDITIONS

ARE GOOD IN UTAH
The weather bureau, in its crop bulletin for the week ending May 23, says of conditions in Utah:

The weather during the week was, on the whole, favorable to growing vegetation, and all crops made rapid growth. Fall wheat and early-sown spring wheat and oats were up to first stage and looking well. The sowing of the spring crops was almost completed. Lucerne was in various stages of growth, the highest being knee high. Gardens and fruit were improving, and beets were being thinned and stock was doing well. While sheep shearing was somewhat delayed by the wet weather in the southern portion of the section, yet the season was practically closed. The clip was uniformly good. Irrigation had begun in some few localities with the supply of water plentiful.

Will make the sick well, the weak strong and the blood pure. Then there's none to equal it for those who are weak and run down and who suffer from Indigestion, General Debility, Liver or Kidney Ills or Malaria, Fever and Ague. It always cures. Try it. At all druggists.

DRUNKENNESS was the charge upon which Amelia Dudley, Gray and garrulous, was arraigned in court. Officer Seigfus testified that he had picked her up on the street at 4 o'clock in the morning, badly intoxicated and carrying two pairs of shoes which she had stolen somewhere.

"Are you guilty or not guilty?" asked the court of the prisoner.
"Judge, I never stole them shoes; I can tell you the man I bought 'em of."
"You are not on trial for stealing the shoes; you are charged with drunkenness. Were you drunk?"
"Ask the lady who was in jail when I caught her," she said.
"But that isn't the question," interrupted the court, raising for order. "I ask you to plead to the charge. Are you guilty or not guilty?"
"I tell ye, Judge, I kin show ye the place where I got them shoes, an' I—"
"Madam, I don't care where you got the shoes. You are not on trial for larceny. I want you to—"
"I'd rather be tried for larceny than any other charge. I guess it's morning after 2 o'clock and I—"
"Listen to me," almost yelled the court. "You are not charged with stealing—"
"But I want to be charged with stealing. I don't want to be charged with drunk when I wasn't drunk."
The court continued until the prisoner is sober," said the court, finally, in deep disgust.

John Dean Swift, charged with battery on the person of Mrs. Mary Miskind, could not restrain himself from being dramatic on the witness stand. When he undertook to describe how Mrs. Miskind had "purred" on his door when she was in "pursuit" of him, Swift had a good time on the judge's desk with so much force that the court was startled and

WELL KNOWN EDUCATOR
VISITS SALT LAKE

Prof. Harry Pratt Judson, dean of the faculty of the University of Chicago and head of the department of political science at that institution, is at the Knutsford. Prof. Judson is returning from the coast, where he has spent a month visiting the leading colleges. Prof. Judson is one of the best-known educators in the United States, and the author of several books on history, the science of government. When Dr. Harper began the work of building his great university on the Midway Plaisance, in 1892, he cast about for men of the highest ability to co-operate with him. Prof. Judson, who then occupied the chair of history in the University of Minnesota, was persuaded to come to Chicago and take the position of dean of the faculties of art, literature and science. The successful organization of the new university was in large part due to his executive ability and well-directed energy.

COL. B. F. LOCKWOOD
COMMANDS AT THE FORT

Col. Benjamin F. Lockwood of the Twenty-ninth Infantry took command of the military post at Fort Douglas yesterday morning, relieving Maj. Caffrey, who has had temporary command. So far the regiment has not yet had time to get properly settled in barracks. The officers' families are quartered at the hotels, until they get straightened out.

The personnel of the officers' mess is as follows: Col. Lockwood, Maj. Walter A. Thurston, Lieut. A. A. Easton, Adjutant, Lieut. Albert G. Goodwin, Quartermaster, Capt. John F. Woodward, Capt. William A. Raybourn, Capt. Howard R. Perry, First Lieut. W. H. Allen, Second Lieut. R. E. Beebe, J. B. Barnes, Edwin O. Sanders, and Second Lieut. Samuel M. Parker. The band, consisting of fourteen pieces, is led by Bandmaster Otto. Two hundred and sixty is the total number of officers and men. K and M companies went straight through to Price, whence they will march to Fort Duchesne. The officers in command are Capt. Roy H. Allen and Charles H. Paine, and Lieut. Edward Y. Miller, Harry Wells, Eugene P. Crowe and Hugh S. Stevenson.

Maj. Thurston, Capt. Bryant S. Wells and Lieut. W. H. Point are well known in Salt Lake City. The two latter are at home here, while Maj. Thurston was stationed at Fort Douglas when he was a Lieutenant in the Sixteenth Infantry. Chased in their khaki uniforms and sunburnt from the Philippine sun, the soldiers made a picturesque effect as they rode up to the fort, followed by the admiring gaze of countless street urchins, and every girl that could make an excuse to be on the streets at that time. Maj. Edwin T. Pendleton goes to Fort Duchesne in command of K and M companies.

great clouds of dust arose from the desk-covering. He was told that he must restrain himself or be in contempt. Mrs. Miskind testified that Swift, who is aged and infirm, had assaulted and beaten her with an iron pot, into which he had been about to draw some water from the hydrant situated on the line dividing the premises occupied by the two families. Swift and his fifteen-year-old son both declared that Mrs. Miskind assaulted the old man first, grabbing him by the coat and wrist, and that he did nothing but defend himself and try to get away. Mrs. Miskind having been thrown down in the struggle, when she struck her head on a sharp rock, inflicting a scalp wound.

"When that fierce woman attacked me I thought I should die," exclaimed Swift, striking an attitude, "and when I finally got into the 'cave' I had to drink three glasses of water to save my life. She sprang upon me at the 'cave' like a tigress. I tried to get away, but she 'ung' onto me and I touched 'er and pushed 'er down. Then I said, 'I save you at my mercy,' but I didn't strike 'er. I ran into the 'cave' and she rushed after me."
The court decided that the diners of the affray were about even and dismissed the case.

"PE-RU-NA TONES UP THE SYSTEM
IF TAKEN IN THE SPRING"

SAYS THIS BEAUTIFUL YOUNG GIRL.

MISS MARJORY HAMPTON, OF NEW YORK.

Miss Marjory Hampton, 2516 Third Avenue, New York City, writes:
"Peruna is a fine medicine to take any season of the year. Taken in the spring it tones up the system and acts as a tonic, strengthening me more than a vacation. In the fall and winter I have found that it cures colds and catarrh, and also find that it is invaluable to keep the bowels regular, acting as a gentle stimulant on the system. In fact, I consider it a whole medicine chest."—Miss Marjory Hampton.

PURE BLOOD.

Blood Impurities of Springtime—Cause, Prevention and Cure

Dr. Hartman's medical lectures are eagerly scanned by many thousands readers.

One of the most timely and interesting lectures he ever delivered was his recent lecture on the blood impurities of spring.

The doctor said in substance that every spring the blood is loaded with the effete accumulations of winter, deranging the digestion, producing sluggishness of the liver, overtaxing the kidneys, interfering with the action of the bowels and the proper circulation of the blood.
This condition of things produces what is popularly known as spring fever, spring malaria, nervous exhaustion, that tired feeling, blood thickening and many other names.

Sometimes the victim is bilious, dyspeptic and constipated; sometimes he is weak, nervous and depressed; and again he may have eruptions, swellings and other blood humors. Whatever it is, the cause is the same—effete accumulations in the blood.

Nothing is more certain within the whole range of medical science than that a course of Peruna in early springtime will perfectly and effectually prevent or cure this almost universal affection.

Everybody feels it in some degree. A great majority are disturbed considerably, while a large percentage of the human family are made very intolerable by this condition every spring.

Peruna will prevent it if taken in time.

Peruna is the ideal spring medicine of the medical profession.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address, Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

Our treatment is a local one entirely. It is original and scientific, and has been proven absolutely effective by thousands of tests.
